Today is "Leap Day." A leap year is a year that contains one additional day, making it 366 days instead of the usual 365. This extra day, known as a leap day, is added to the calendar to keep it synchronized with the astronomical year. Would you like to have been born on February 29th? Why or why not?